

Example 2: Set the thumbnail size for an individual gallery

Why?

Because you may not want to use the default thumbnail size set for all galleries.

How?

You can set the thumbnail size for a specific gallery on the component properties page (a.k.a. “Inspector”).

You can also override many other settings (like gallery layout, size, etc.).

Embedded Gallery

Show a gallery of images in your page using various layouts, with optional full-screen (lightbox-style) viewing.
